

Another Book Details Hillary Clinton's Erratic Behavior

Summary: Numerous people have come forward to claim presidential candidate Hillary Clinton is not fit to be the president of the country with this book being the latest claim.

Just in time for the presidential race to get heated, an ex-Secret Service officer has come forward to spill some juicy details of his experience with Hillary Clinton. Gary Byrne was posted outside the Oval Office during Bill Clinton's presidency, giving him firsthand experience that he demonstrates in his tell-all book, "Crisis of Character: A White House Secret Service Officer Discloses his Firsthand Experience with Hillary, Bill, and How They Operate."

Byrne, a 29-year veteran of federal law enforcement and the military, refers to Hillary's personality as a "Jekyll and Hyde" with "erratic, uncontrollable and occasionally violent." His allegations put her ability to be a stable leader into question.

In his book, Byrne claims that Hillary would frequently shout obscenities at Bill, White House staffers, and Secret Service personnel, causing them all to fear her. Secret Service agents even had to discuss the possibility of protecting Bill from her, specifically citing a "violent encounter" the morning of a key presidential address to the nation.

Knowing that she was exposed, Hillary tried to have the Secret Service kicked out of the White House and would try to evade her security detail. Byrne says, "...she simply lacks the integrity and temperament to serve in the office. From the bottom of my soul I know this to be true."

The book reiterates previous allegations of Secret Service personnel mistreatment by Hillary. Washington Post reporter Ronald Kessler wrote "First Family Detail" in 2014 and "The Residence: Inside the Private World of the White House."

The book has not yet been released but pre-orders have placed it on top of Amazon's best-seller list.
